Old Business

Rules

Mr Koehl and Mr Thompson provided an overview of the current Rules status to date.

There was discussion that the industry is developing a codified set of Rules recommendations for private detective, security contractor and alarm contractor that they would like to work with the Department on so industry concerns can be considered.

New Business

Computer Forensic Investigator

Mr Koehl received a few inquiries on the need for a private detective license for working as a computer forensic investigator.

Since the definition of detective states 'manual or electronic means...' and history is being tracked then computer forensic work would require a private detective license.
